Quad to step up efforts for 'freedom of navigation'

India, US, Japan, Oz to boost coordination to counter China in Indo-Pacific

AGENCIES Tokyo, 6 October

A mild growing global concern over China's expansionist behaviour, India, the US, Japan, and Australia on Tuesday agreed to step up coordination in ensuring a free and open Indo-Pacific region.

"We remain committed to upholding the rules-based international order, underpinned by the rule of law, transparency, freedom of navigation in the international seas, respect for territorial integrity and sovereignty and peaceful resolution of disputes," he said.

naval drift, expanding what has been a bilateral event with the US and Japan. Suga, Japan's new prime minister, said Quad's "free and open Indo-Pacific" initiative, a concept to counter China's growing assertiveness, is more important than ever amid challenges from the Covid-19 pandemic.

India, according to reports, is expected to invite Australia to take part in an annual naval drill, expanding what has been a bilateral event with the US and Japan.

Beijing has denounced the Quad as an attempt to contain its development.

Rahul's tractor stir ends with high drama

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, who is in Haryana to protest the new farm laws on the concluding day of his Khair Bachao Yatra, stepped up the attack on the Centre, saying the absence of mandi will only increase unemployment. A high drama at Haryana's border with Punjab, state authorities allowed Gandhi and a few party leaders to enter the BJP-ruled state as part of his protest rally

NIRMALA ATTACKS CONG

"Under certain other governments, the focus was only on giving and increasing MSP for paddy and wheat... They did not bother about other crops"

NIRMALA SITHARAMAN, FINANCE MINISTER

New-look MPC may maintain pause

In the first few meetings of the MPC in 2016, all the members used to come to a unanimous decision; the same pattern could be seen with the new MPC too, say economists.

The RBI has nine ex-officio members in the committee. Including the RBI governor, while there are three external members. If there is a tie on the voting, the governor can cast an extra deciding vote. So, in all likelihood, it is the RBI as an organisation and the governor who matter the most for the policy makers.

Noise over mandis drowns out support for corporate silos

"However, though in the early years they paid us 20 more than the minimum support price (MSP), those incentives have been gone for many years."

Gurnam Singh, another elderly farmer in the village, too, says that there are advantages to taking their produce to the corporate-run silos. It takes around three hours to give my wheat at Adani. In mandis it would be almost three days before the wheat would be taken by commission agents. But of late, the waiting time has increased at the silo and they have also started rejecting wheat," he says.

An FCI official at the Moga base depot explains that Adani's silos save the government crores of rupees on three counts - daily wages to labour, the transport cost from mandi to warehouses and the cost of gunny bags to transport wheat.

Farmers agitating at the Adani silo in Dabra dismiss this argument. "Big companies will offer attractive prices for one or two years. Once farmers start selling to them, they will artificially depress prices. Isn't this what Reliance Jio did? Offer free phones and data, capture the market, and then start charging more. Farmers will become slaves of big corporations," says Bala Singh, 72, a farmer protesting at the Adani silo site under the banner of the Bhartiya Kisan Union Ekta Ugraha (BKU).

"The new bill will finish off mandis and reduce government procurement. This new law that guarantees MSP to farmers. The government gives us a guarantee for only rice and wheat. This year we got Rs 700 for maize although its MSP was Rs 1850 per quintal, adds Gurnam Singh, another farmer. This law will mean Gurnam Singh feels that big companies will start hoarding

ADIA to Pick Up 1.2% Stake in Reliance Retail for ₹5,513 crore

Investment values RIL's retail venture at pre-money level of ₹4.3 lakh crore

Our Bureau
Mumbai: Reliance Industries said its wholly-owned subsidiary of the Abu Dhabi Investment Authority (ADIA) will buy a 1.2% stake in Reliance Retail Ventures for ₹5,513 crore. The investment values Reliance Retail at approximately ₹4.3 lakh crore. Reliance Retail has received ₹1,700 crore from investors including US buyout firm KKR & Co, private equity giant General Atlantic, technology investment firm Silver Lake, sovereign wealth fund Mubadala, GIC and TPG in the past few weeks. "The investment by ADIA is a further endorsement of Reliance Retail's performance and potential and the inclusive and transformational new consumer business model that it is pursuing," Reliance chairman Mukesh Ambani said in a statement Tuesday. The Mumbai conglomerate is poised for a big spring in India's burgeoning retail story with its huge network of brick-and-mortar stores and the newly-launched JioMart e-commerce venture. Reliance Retail has also agreed to acquire the e-commerce Reliance Future Group, which would help consolidate the control over more than a third of India's estimated $90-billion annual modern retailing market.

Reliance Retail has rapidly established itself as one of the leading retail businesses in India and, by leveraging both its physical and digital supply chains, is strongly positioned for further growth," said Haseeb Sheikh, ADIA chairman, executive director of the private equity department at ADIA. "This investment is consistent with our strategy of investing in market-leading businesses in Asia linked to the region's (on)omni-channel growth and rapid technological advancement."

Reliance plans to raise a ₹20,000 crore by selling a 2% stake in the retail venture Reliance Retail, which operates over 12,000 stores across formats reported a net profit of ₹5.5 crore over a consolidated turnover of ₹1,22,939 crore in the year ended March.

Covid has Brought Govt's Focus on Healthcare Infra: RB's Global CEO

Pandemic to bring a big change in the way health & hygiene will be viewed, he says

Rajesh Bhatnagar
ETimesGroup.com
New Delhi: Covid-19 has "reopened" the much-needed government focus on health-care infrastructure development in India, "consumer healthcare and hygiene company" Reckitt Benckiser's global chief executive Lakshman Narasimhan said on Tuesday. "Announcing that the company was doubling investment in its Dettol Banega Swachh India campaign from 100 million to 200 million, Narasimhan said it is "evident that the pandemic will bring a paradigm shift in not only the way health and hygiene will be perceived, but the way it is embraced by the government, the industry as well as the community at large." The UK-based Reckitt Benckiser (RB), which has extensively leveraged its own cleanliness and hygiene campaign with the government's Swachh Bharat programme, said it is working to democratise health care. The company, which also makes Lizol and Harpic hygiene brands besides Dettol soap and antiseptics, claimed its campaign promoting health and hygiene improved the lives of 14 million people in India. Future plans include doubling its school outreach and preparing schools for reopening with safety kits to over one million schools in India. RB had said in July that its Dettol brand became the largest-selling soap in India for the first time as consumers spent extensively on the germ-killing soap amid the pandemic. "Traditionally, the UK-based Reckitt Benckiser (RB), which has extensively leveraged its own

BUILDING BACK TOMORROW BETTER

Even before the pandemic, progress against the SDGs was stalling, and now, the pandemic has exposed our weaknesses. But rather than use it as a crutch, it should be seen as an opportunity to create a better, stronger, more sustainable, resilient and inclusive future for all. As the world looks forward to emerging from this crisis and moving into recovery, what should our new normal look like? And how can all of us help realize the dream of a better world?

The Economic Times SDG Summit 2020 brought together global thought leaders across government, media, talent, civil society, academia, policy, NGOs, and corporates as they sought to answer these questions and deepen our understanding of how to achieve the SDGs in these tumultuous times. The event was also India's role in this achievement has been well articulated, with ambitious targets set in several areas of economic progress, inclusion and sustainability; the summit addressed key issues impacting our world and uncovered solutions for creating a better future for us all."

"India has made tremendous progress in achieving important Sustainable Development Goals"

Prakash Javadekar, Minister of Environment, Forest and Climate Change

We are walking the talk and are on our way to achieving SDG targets by 2030. We have conserved optimum water resource usage, while maintaining river ecology and are committed to provide potable water in every household by 2024," the minister said while addressing The Economic Times SDGs Summit 2020.

Speaking about SDG goal 13 that relates to climate change, the minister said that India is one of the few countries who are walking the talk on their commitments to Paris. "Our commitments are in compliance with the overall target of keeping the temperature rise below 2 degrees. More importantly, we have also increased our tree cover inside and outside forests. We have taken up a target of 26 million hectares of land restoration."

He added that the country had also achieved 21% reduction in emission intensity and has added 37% of renewable energy to the total energy capacity mix.

SUSTAINABILITY SPEAK

The current situation demands a fresh mindset where approach to development should be human-centric. India's progress in SDGs is crucial for the entire world as the country is home to about 18% of the world population."

- AMBASSADOREE Y. S. YRUMUNTHU, Permanent Representative of India to the United Nations, New York

"Gender equality should start at party level that will lead to representation at the parliament level. Women leadership at the village panchayat level will only help eradication of many health hazards. Investment in preventive healthcare is crucial in this post pandemic era."

- MEENAKSHI LEKHU, Member of BJP and Member of Parliament from Nashik (All India Parliamentary constituency)

"I have sleepless nights thinking of a world without water and clean air, whereas people just have the YOLO attitude. This is a cause I really believe in. It determined out of fear, fear of not having a world like I have for the future generations."

- BHUMIKA PEDNEKAR, Actor and Climate Warrior

"Sustainability should include employment. Unemployed youth is probably the most dangerous situation any economy or any country can face."

- PREETHA REDDY, Vice Chairperson, Apollo Hospitals Group

"Great companies focus on the issues that align with their business strategy and where they can have the greatest potential for global impact"

- SANJEEV GARDIE, President, Cso India and SAARC

"For corporates, sustainability typically looks at reducing impact locally and globally. However, it starts at home - protecting our climate and communities provides purpose, creates a better work culture and instils pride in people."

- IQRAN SINGH, MD, AGG

"The challenge of improving people's lives is greater now than ever. The SDGs are the perfect roadmap and guide to ensure peace, health, equality and justice for all."
